

Individual Reflection 1 - Harry Denell

What do I want to learn or understand better? Consider e.g. teamwork, Scrum, agile processes, technologies etc?

I would like to have more time to really understand the agile framework, all the expressions and lingo that are tied to the framework, and how to implement these in practice. Right now we have created a scrum board, and have a good understanding of user stories, but I feel like I am lacking further understanding of how these can really be leveraged to create good products, fast and effectively.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries? How can I help my team do better next sprint?

I have mainly been working with the front end story of creating a dashboard that looks good. I have also been working on the story with how much caffeine the user has in its body at the current time, connecting Firebase to our project, creating the repository that fetches the stored data and a half life function that calculates the caffeine left in the users body.

I would like to be better at communicating what I am doing to the group, making sure they know what they can help me with, and letting them know if they can ask me for help and so on.
